

TV SOCKET

(1 module)

Functions

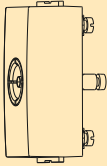

- Connects user equipment to systems for the distribution of analog or digital sound and video signals, from terrestrial, satellite or cable link, in the 5-2400 MHz frequency band.
- Permits the connection of a single device (eg. TV or SAT receiver).
- Can be used for satellite internet applications and also for interactive functions (hotel communications and cable TV)

Technical Specifications

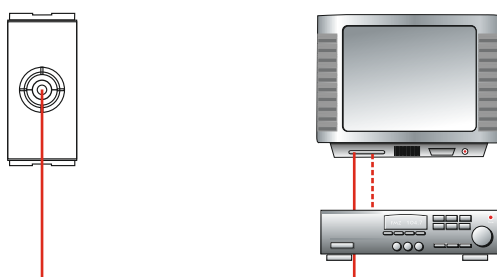

- Frequency range 5-2400 MHz
- Output through coaxial male connector.
- Pillar type terminal for connection.
- Screw terminal.

Application

Used to provide TV connections at different locations.

Product	Product code	Details
	AA 1 032	TV Socket

Example of Use

Front and side view showing the over all dimensions in mm

